- Nyenhuis grants in the summer (many kinds; annual; summer support)
- Frost Center Fellowships (annual; year-long fellowship)
- Towsley Research Scholar Fellowship (third-year; four-year fellowship)
- Departmental support

U d a a

- OSRP is terrific
- Next month (November) we'll host a grant-writing discussion / workshop
- Start small and then build up

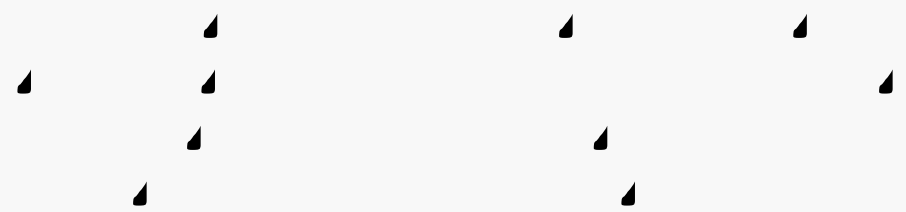
Make them SMART: Specific, Measureable, Attainable, Realistic, and based on a Timeline

Break them into smaller sub-



- Fear, perfectionism, and procrastination are three of the biggest three to productivity
  - Fear that you will be rejected (newsflash: you will) or be thought stupid (reviewers are USUALLY constructive) or aren't good enough (you have something important to say)
  - Perfectionism keeps us from sending things out (submitted is better than unpublished)
  - Procrastination stall us out indefinitely and can be dealt with by scheduling and holding your self accountable

- Do it, even when you don't want to (in the moment)

- Swing for the fences…you can always work your way down the publication or grants ladder

- We learn from rejection, and we usually get better
